

Great Western Railway

Advanced notice of improvement work taking place in Cornwall and Devon later this year and into 2022.

There is more information at:

- www.GWR.com/Upgrade
- www.GWR.com/WestCornwall (for the improvement work taking place in December)

Monday 13 to Thursday 16 December

- Track renewal work will take place in the Redruth and Penzance areas
- Buses will replace trains between Truro and Penzance as well as between St Erth and St Ives (14-16 December only)
- An amended train service will continue to run between Plymouth and Truro

Weekends of 8/9 and 15/16 January

- Bridge replacement work will take place between Newton Abbot and Paignton
- Instead of running traditional replacement buses, tickets will be accepted on local buses between Newton Abbot and Paignton
- Trains will run as normal between Exeter St Davids – Newton Abbot – Plymouth.

Friday 21 to Thursday 27 January

- Buses will replace trains on the Atlantic Coast Line (Par to Newquay)
- Replacement buses will depart from St Austell instead of Par

All weekends in February

- Bridge replacement work will take place between Newton Abbot and Paignton
- Instead of running traditional replacement buses, tickets will be accepted on local buses between Newton Abbot and Paignton
- Trains will run as normal between Exeter St Davids – Newton Abbot – Plymouth

Sunday 6 February

- In addition to the above, buses will also replace trains between Exeter St Davids and Exeter Central
- Trains will continue to run between Exeter Central and Exmouth

Saturday 19 to Sunday 27 February

- Bridge repair work will be taking place between Crediton and Yeoford
- Buses will replace trains between Crediton and Barnstaple/Okehampton
- Trains will continue to run between Exeter and Crediton