

GWR new timetable

We have a new timetable starting on Sunday (12th December), with both weekend and weekday changes. Online timetable journey planners have been updated, and you can download copies of specific timetable booklets from our website on <https://www.gwr.com/plan-journey/train-times>.

From Monday 20th December we will extend our services between Cardiff and Taunton to Penzance, providing direct services between the two cities for the first time.

The extra trains will provide almost 700 seats every day between Taunton, Exeter and Plymouth, with trains from Cardiff to Taunton being joined up with existing Cornish mainline services between Plymouth and Penzance.

We're confident that this timetable is both robust and reliable, and that our teams – working with Network Rail and other operators – can deliver.
